

As your organization begins planning for its upcoming United Way fundraising campaign, it is important to be mindful of legalities. If you're planning a raffle, your organization is required by law to obtain a lottery licence. Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO) has a special process for workplaces running a United Way Campaign.

When do you need a license?

Any event that involves gaming, such as 50/50 draws, raffles, casino nights, or bingos, will need a license from the province. The application form must be filled out in the name of your workplace and have a letter attached with the authorization signatures from United Way. The application will require written approval from the municipality. The application is then sent to your provincial licensing bureau with the required application fee. For more information in your region, consult the United Way.

Please note that it can take up to six weeks to receive your license. Therefore, if you anticipate needing a license, please contact your provincial licensing bureau as soon as possible ***

What constitutes a game of chance?

5. A copy of the ticket to be used for the raffle must be submitted with the application.
